3. Prior to January 7, 2004, the publication date of Alert Memorandum: U.S. Federal Income Tax Issues Related to Income Deposit Securities, Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton ("Alert Memorandum"), we had completed our invention as described in the subject application and recited in the attached claims (Nos. 1-74).

4. As evidence that our work antedates the Alert Memorandum, we refer to Provisional Application No. 60/539,526 which was filed January 26, 2004, and to which the present application properly claims priority under 35 U.S.C. § 119(e) ("the Priority Application"). The Priority Application discusses submissions made to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on February 13, 2003, May 22, 2003, December 4, 2003 concerning implementations of the claimed invention.

5. The SEC filings discussed in the Priority Application were published before the January 7, 2004 publication date of the Alert Memorandum, and less than a year before the filing of the Priority Application.

6. We, as employees of the Assignee of the present application, conceived of the implementations presented in the SEC filings.

7. The Alert Memorandum states "[i]n December, 2003, Volume Services America Holdings, Inc. ("Volume Services") effected an initial public offering ("IPO") of Income Deposit Securities ("IDSs")." (Alert Memorandum, page 1.) The Volume Services initial public offering of IDSs constitutes one of the commercial implementations of our conception disclosed in the SEC filings.

8. Upon information and belief, the aforementioned SEC filings prompted a number of articles, reviews, and commentaries on the subject matter of the invention defined by the claims in Exhibit A, each of which, to the extent known by the undersigned, necessarily came after our conception.

9. We further declare that all statements made herein of our own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon.
